This week’s issue

Comment
- Going through the hoops

News and Reports
- RCVS seeks feedback on a draft code of conduct for VNIs
- FSA rejects idea of third-party provision of meat inspection services
- Class of 2011: the first graduates from Nottingham vet school
- ‘Huge opportunity’ for vets to assess their sales of non-prescription products
- Role play enhances students’ understanding of welfare issues
- Helping owners meet their pets’ needs
- Profession welcomes report on access to higher education
- Honouring a lifetime’s contribution to cardiology
- Benefits of animal-assisted interventions to young offenders
- VBF fellowship awarded for ‘outstanding’ service
- New course for animal rehoming staff

Surveillance
- International disease monitoring, April to June 2011

Research
- Antimicrobial resistance: time for action (J. S. Weese)
- Evaluation of risks of foot-and-mouth disease in Scotland to assist with decision making during the 2007 outbreak in the UK (V. V. Volkova and others)
- Antimicrobial susceptibility of Pseudomonas aeruginosa isolates from dogs with otitis externa (S. Mekić and others)

Research Digest

Viewpoint
- Seeking clarity on specialisation (C. M. Elwood, C. M. Marr)

Gazette
- Prevalence of Leptospira cases in the vet-visiting dog population in the UK (C. Ball and others)
- Controlling dog behaviour (K. Shepherd) (M. M. Aitken)
- Unexplained outbreaks of a novel acute haemorrhagic vomiting syndrome in cats (A. D. Radford and others)
- Risk of botulism for laying hens and broilers (S. P. Hardy and others) (A. E. Sharpe and others)
- Correct use of antibiotics? (R. McNeill) (H-J. Boulouis and others)

Vet Record Careers
- From four legs to two: a journey from animal health to human health
- New graduate’s diary