This week's issue

Scientific predictions preserved in a time capsule at the Pirbright Institute, p 362
Investigation of an outbreak of H9N1 avian influenza in UK poultry, p 372
Unusual cases of cutaneous actinobacillosis in young cattle, p 375

360 Comment
360 What price disease?

361 News and Reports
361 Second badger culling licence issued
361 Equine infectious anaemia: investigations continue in Cornwall
362 Pirbright time capsule looks to the future of science
362 Experiencing life as a rescue dog
363 Book and exhibition mark Glasgow’s 150th anniversary
364 Link between saddle slip and lameness in horses
365 Building the veterinary team
365 Changes to the FEI’s prohibited substances list
366 Vets with vision needed to ensure a healthy future
367 Responsibility and cost sharing: where are we now?
368 Small animal CPD programme
369 Common interests: the veterinary contribution to public health

370 Research
370 Advances in tonometry in companion animals (J. Oliver)
371 First reported low pathogenicity avian influenza virus subtype H9 infection of domestic fowl in England (C. D. Parker and others)
372 Comparison of a rebound tonometer with an applanation tonometer in dogs with glaucoma (J. M. Slack and others)
373 Retrospective study of the prevalence of postanaesthetic hypothermia in dogs (J. I. Redondo and others)
374 Vaginal and uterine bacteria of healthy bitches during different stages of their reproductive cycle (A. Maksimović and others)
375 Atypical cutaneous actinobacillosis in young beef cattle (S. D. Cahalan and others)

376 Research Digest
377 Books
378 Gazette
380 Letters
380 Fatal elephant endotheliotropic herpesvirus type 5 infection in a captive Asian elephant (D. Denk and others)
381 Risk of equine infectious anaemia from horses imported to Germany (J. Gethmann and others)
381 Diagnosis of a small-sized reticular diaphragmatic hernia in a buffalo (A. Kumar and others)

Products & Services

Vet Record Careers
i Driving practice innovation
ii On course