This week’s issue

Cameras capture badgers’ nocturnal visits to farm buildings. p105
Accidental tourist – the AHVLA receives a silver-haired bat from the USA, p113
Investigating the routes of TSE transmission, p114

102 Comment
102 More in than out on animal health

103 News and Reports
103 AHVLA to put OVs services out to tender
104 Getting down to business
104 New presidents for BVA branches in Scotland and Wales
105 Caught on camera: surveillance monitors badgers’ visits to farms
105 Plans to develop agricultural research facilities at Aberystwyth
106 Busy start for canine cancer centre
107 Recognising contributions to animal welfare
108 Veterinary medicines: product update
109 The long and the short of slipped discs

106 News in Brief
110 Surveillance
110 AHVLA disease surveillance report for April

114 Research
114 BSE: the further we go, the less we know (C. Acín)
117 Development of a test for bovine tuberculosis in cattle based on measurement of gamma interferon mRNA by real-time PCR (W. Gan and others)
118 Unsuccessful oral transmission of scrapie from British sheep to cattle (T. Konold and others)
118 Retrospective study of oral necrobacillosis in 54 swamp wallabies (N. Kido and others)

119 Research Digest
120 Gazette
121 Letters
121 Duodenal sigmoid flexure volvulus and gall bladder displacements in dairy cows (S. Russell)
122 Pinioning non-agricultural birds (C. Lewis)
123 BVA News

Vet Record Careers
Hooked on research