This week’s issue

More data needed to inform welfare decisions on primates kept as pets, p 617

Dorsal vertebral column abnormalities in dogs with DISH, p 632

Study to investigate trancing syndrome in bull terriers, p 640

616 Comment

616 Protecting farmed fish

617 News and Reports

617 Primates kept as pets: EFRAcom calls for more data

618 Defra seeks views on strengthening TB controls applied to cattle

618 TB controls: partial derestrictions to end in October

619 Defra responds to BVA’s e-petition on non-stun slaughter

620 FAO calls for more surveillance and research on MERS

620 National Sheep Association calls for reform of TSE legislation

621 Teaching fellowship for RVC lecturer

621 Collaboration to fight vector-borne diseases

621 News in Brief

622 RCVS Council

622 RCVS to clarify its guidance on 24/7 emergency care

627 Feature

627 Unfortunate timing ... (B. Vivash Jones)

630 Research

630 Disseminated idiopathic skeletal hyperostosis: diagnostic criteria and clinical significance (A. Wessmann)

632 Dorsal vertebral column abnormalities in dogs with disseminated idiopathic skeletal hyperostosis (DISH) (S. De Decker, H. A. Volk)

633 Efficacy of a non-updated, Matrix-C-based equine influenza subunit-tetanus vaccine following Florida sub lineage clade 2 challenge (H. G. W. Pouwels and others)

634 Comparison of depopulation and S19-RBS1 vaccination strategies for control of bovine brucellosis in high prevalence areas (J. L. Saez and others)

635 Research Digest

636 Books

638 Gazette

639 Letters

639 Availability of adder venom (N. Bates, N. Edwards)

639 Vaccination against bluetongue (S. Voas)

640 Ritual slaughter (E. J. Moffitt)

640 Trancing syndrome in bull terriers (M. Lowrie and others)

640 Primates as pets (M. Stanford)

Vet Record Careers

Farm animal forensics