

This week's issue

Research on ovine pulmonary adenocarcinoma could shed light on human lung cancer, p 393

New tools to help small animal practitioners deal with cases of poisoning, p 397

Congenital hyperostosis in newborn pigs diagnosed by the VLA, p 403

390 Comment

390 Long live the FAWC

391 News and Reports

- 391 Welfare council's final opinions
- 392 Defra proposes changes to BSE testing regime
- 392 Proposal to restrict vets' ability to sell medicines defeated
- 393 Vaccination against bluetongue: new rules in the pipeline
- 393 OPA study may benefit human lung cancer research
- 394 Recognising exceptional contributions to veterinary nursing
- 394 Local authority inspectors gain confidence in handling feral ponies
- 395 Different perspectives on vaccination advice
- 397 Need-to-know information on poisonings in cats and dogs
- 398 Ladies first at vet awards ceremony
- 398 Students experience shelter medicine
- 399 Getting down to business during EMS
- 399 Website provides new resource on genetic welfare issues
- 400 Equine intensive care unit at Liverpool
- 400 Key appointment at Hill's

400 News in Brief

401 Surveillance

401 VLA disease surveillance report for February

405 Research

405 Canine hydrotherapy: where are we now? (B. Houlding)

407 Evaluation of the status of canine hydrotherapy in the UK (M. Wainwright and others)

408 Prevalence of mixed trematode infections in an abattoir receiving cattle from northern Portugal and north-west Spain (M. Arias and others)

409 Assessment of the sedative effects of buprenorphine administered with 20 µg/kg detomidine in horses (E. J. Love and others)

410 Risk factors associated with Johne's disease test status in dairy herds in Ireland (D. J. Barrett and others)

410 Prevalence of torque teno virus infection in pig herds in China (X. Liu and others)

411 Research Digest

412 Gazette

413 Letters

413 Recruitment of Temporary Veterinary Inspectors in FMD emergencies (A. Hunter)

413 Applications sought for veterinary representatives on RCVS VN Council (E. Branscombe)

414 Disease surveillance project in pedigree dogs and cats (D. O'Neill and others)

414 Merger of the VLA and Animal Health (L. H. Thomas)

Vet Record Careers

i A rewarding career in basic medical research